

February 12, 2009

Stroll with It

Mia Belle Baby Stroller Liners

You justified spending a fortune on her stroller by going gender neutral and promising to recycle it for number two.

But after six months of people asking his name (er, baldy is a she), you're over it.

Clear things up with a stroller liner in decidedly gender specific pink and blue from Mia Belle Baby.

Made to fit any stroller with a five-point harness, the patchwork designs incorporate a slew of secondary colors (red, green, orange, and yellow for girls; navy, beige, and powder blue for boys), which means they'll probably work with the stroller you already have.

Plus, they have a foot pocket (just flip the liner) for chilly days or air conditioned stores.

Just the push you need.